

Profile of a global leader

As students engage in global learning, they develop a combination of attitudes, skills, and knowledge that demonstrate 10 core competencies. These competencies empower learners to pay attention to the world, feel connected, and take action to make it a better place.

What does it mean to be a global leader?

How do you practice each of these global competencies in your school, community, and at home?